WHAT IT COSTS TO KEEP HOUSE. How You Spend More Than What

Majority of Men Earn Less Than $606 Per Year

How to divide the income so as to shelter, feed and clothe the family and Icave something for the higher life was considered in a paper read before feared our intelligence are beginning the Maine Federation of Women's clubs by Miss Cornelis Palmer, professor of home economics at the University of Maine. Miss Palmer said: So much has been said in regard to the cost of living that we are becoming weary of the phrase and more weary with the struggle to reduce the cost within the limits of our various incomes. It has been said that man earns and woman spends, -This is largely true of the family, although there are exceptions and both contribute to the income by outside labor. Because it is woman's function to a great degree to spend the money for the maintenance of the family it is important that she understand economic conditions and thus be enabled to spend more wisely. There is no doubt but that a woman understands the value and purchasing power of money much better if she has had an opportunity to earn money by her own labor. If she has never had this privilege then it will be necessary for her to study the problem more closely if she is to be fitted to spend to the best advantage. SPENDING TO ADVANTAGE.

Out problem is not learning to live on the very smallest amount of money have to the very best advantage. This does not mean that we should not gave if our income is sufficiently large to warrant it but that we shall provide for those under our care in such a way that they shall be most officient and best able to fill their place in the world. Economy is not spending as little as possible but is spending thoughtfully and wisely. One person may wish to spend less on clothes in order to have more with which to buy books. Another may wish to live more simply in the home in order to have more money with which to travel. What is economy for one may not necessarily be for another. We must choose and decide what things are going to give us the best and most of life and what things we can afford to do without.

HAPPINESS THE AIM.

This is where home economics training is of inestimable value. It teaches us how to live the big, free, useful, life. No matter what we do, happiness is our chief nim. We earn money that we may have it to spend in ways that will give us pleasure. Life and service is our chief end. And the better we are fitted for living—the greater service can we rend and the larger our share of happiness will be.

DIVIDING THE INCOME.

Estimates have been made (material to Bridgton Academy, having been gathered from various places) showing how various incomes have had to be divided in order to and Ruth Farrington teacher in the care for the families under investigation. The amount spent for food cannot vary to such a large extent as ex- of relatives, Sunday. nonditures in other lines if the proper nourishment is secured.

A few figures will bring the problem before us. According to Ellen II. Richards, the ideal division of the income should be: Food, 25 per cent; rent, 20 per cent; operating expenses, 15 per cent; clothing, 15 per cent; higher life, etc., 25 per cent. However, as the income becomes less, the percentage for possible but learning to spend all we food becomes higher and less remains for other things.

For a family of two adults and two or three children (equal to four adults) the division of an income of $4,000 would be according to Mrs. Richards, as follows:

Food, 25 per cent, equals $1000. Rent, 20 per cent, equals $800. Operating expenses, 15 per cent equals $600. Clothes, 20 per cent, equals $800. Higher life, 20 per cent, equals $600.

centage: Food, 60 per cent, equals $300. Rent, 15 per cent, equals $75. Operating expenses, 5 per cent, equals $25. Clothes, 10 per cent, equals $50. Higher life, 10 per cent, equale $50. The medium income of $1000 would show the following: Food, 30 per cent, equals $300. Rent, 20 per cent, equals $200.

Operating expenses, 10 per cent, equals $100. Clothing, 15 per cent, equals $150. Higher life, 25 per cent, equals $250.

AN UNATTAINABLE IDEAL. We can easily see that if the ideal division were applied to the $500 income and 25 per cent were spent for We have thought sometimes that food we should have for one year only "Ignorance is bliss" but no longer $125 or a little less than three cents does that appeal to the emancipated per meal, which would be inadequate Statisticians tell me that about 75 per cent of the male adults in our country are carning less than $600 per year. Therefore, we must considor their problems as well as our own. At the University of Maine and other places where home economics is taught the students learn the value of foods, prepare menus which shall come within a certain definite limit. This can be done in any school or home with a very little thought and planning. Our girls need this kind of training if they are to be efficient cit-

KINDERGARTEN TO UNIVERSITY. The line will come when there will be a sequence of home training from the kindergarten to the university. The women's clobs will be a large factor in bringing this about. They have done much already-there Is vastly more to do. Let us get a vision of this opportunity which is before us and help to lay the foundation of better and happier homes. Let us lay aside the traditions that have bound us to petty things and use the great power which we have in regenerating society through the home. We do not need the ballot in order to do this, but we do keed honest, earnest, pure devoted women who can see beyond the needle and the frying pan, the real meaning of home economics and who will use their knowledge and influence to secure the kind of training for our giels which will best at them for most efficient lives.

Six Questions Answered

(We challenge any other clothing retailers to answer them so completely.)

IS THIS SUIT PURE WOOL?

Yes, it is guaranteed to be all wool. Before the fabric was accepted it was proved pure wool by a caustic soda test, WILL IT SHRINK OR PUCKER?

No; it cannot! The woolen was shrunk by the original London cold-water process; the most thorough shrinking method known. This too is covered by Kirschbaum guarantee. CAN IT FADE?

No. Nitrie acid and a two-week exposure on the roof of the A. B. Kirschbaum Co. building proved the color fast, WHY IS IT HAND TAILORED?

Because permanent shapeliness about the collar, the shoulders and the lapels can come only from patient, skillful needling by hand. .

WILL THE SEAMS HOLD?

They will. Kirschbaum Clothes are sewn at all points of strain with silk thread.

WHAT OF THE STYLES?

Kirschbaum styles are absolutely authoritative. In them are all the correct touches for Fall and Winter wear. Remember-Kirschbaum Clothes are the only ones at their prices which combine all of the above points of quality.

O TARM PACTS.

By Peter Radford, National Lectures Parmers' Educational and Co-Operative Union of America.

The need of the rural communities today is intelligent and consecrated leadership.

The farm is the power house of all progress and the birthplace of all that s noble.

The farm is the nursery of civilization and the parsonage of all religious denominations.

The farmer asks no special privileges. The Dusiness of farming only wants the same opportunities afforded other lines of industry.

It is as much a duty of the country pastor to exhort us to own a home while on earth as it is to inspire us to build a mansion in the skies.

The rural press, the pulpit and the school are a trinity of powerful influence that the farmer must utilize to their fullest enpacity before he can occupy a commanding position in public affairs.

With representation from more than two-thirds of the States in the Union the eleventh annual meeting of the were allowed every privilege of its Farmers, Educational and Co-Operative Union of America came to a close in Fort Worth, Tex., recently, after a three days session. The keynote of the convention was the action of the only from slats, no springs, yet we body in voting to ask direct ald from the government in the present crisis which confronts the American farmer as a result of the titania struggle neross the water. A plan was formulated whereby the Federal government will be asked to tide the farmers over the emergency, and a complittee was appointed to go to Washington to consult with Federal authorities relative to the situation,

A high tribute was paid to the worl of Peter Radford by National President, C. S. Barrett, in his opening address to the convention, who declared that it was the Radford type of men which keep one's faith sound, his courage high and renews his faith in humanity. He stated that Mr. Radford had been of invaluable assistance to him in his work and that his wise counsel and suggestions had materially assisted him in the solution of problems confronting the national work. The National Union has strong and nctive organizations in twenty-seven States of the Union and is composed of a membership numbering eight million. The officers of the Union were unanimously re-elected for the coming year, as follows:-President, C. S. Barrett, Georgia; Vice-President, A. V. Swift, Oregon; Secretary-Treasurer, A. C. Davis, Arkansas.

THE MEN BEHIND THE PLOW. The eleventh annual meeting of the National Farmers' Union was in session for three days at Fort Worth last week. The delegates attending the meeting came from more than twothirds of the States in the Union and every branch of agricultural ondervor was represented. Coming, as they dld, direct from the soil, with their hands brown from exposure and their minds attuned to the needs of the hour, there was no chance for dissention among their ranks and there was a complete harmony and unity of thought and action, such as beat the class which feeds and clothes the world.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

It was Tolstoi who promised the Armageddor, but in 1913 instead of 1914, and that out of it would come a man from the north, little known, who us a newspaper man, journalist and statesman would be the great central, dominating figure until 1925, when conditions would sweep him off the world's stage, and in the place of monarchies, principalities and powers would rise republics to welcome the birth of the twenty-first century. And who is this man that Tolstoi forecast in the ngw famous prophecy which the great teacher wrote for Ozar Nicholas more han five years ago?

Albert of Belgium seems at this moment to fit into the prophecy like a glove upon a lady's hand, for Albert was not born to the expectation of kingship, he just "grawed" into his present plans of the King of Belgians and a mighty good king he is too.

Albert was born in 1875 and was well educated. He is a good engineer, an efficient amateur aviator, writes excellently and has been a corking good newspaper reporter in both Brussels and Antwerp. He worked at the business just as seriously as young men who don't happen to be princes, did police, and "ship news" and, after a time, got the idea that he wanted to see the world a bit before settling down. And so he came to America, He quits the grate; I knealt in vain; | visiting in New York, Washington Chiengo, and for a number of months lived in St. Paul. When he went home he wrote a "bully good" book about America, making it clear that our democratic sort of government was just about what the people needed.

Then he came to rule over the Belgians, and now he qualifies as Tolstol's striking figure in this awful war of the nations. Perhaps others may outshine him later, but up to now he is easily the first in the world's thought.

"Peace, peace and there is no peacel!" On a balmy day in April of last year Congressman Richard Bartholdt, of St. Louis, the most outspoken advocate of peace in either house of Congress, planted an oak tree along one of the sheltered pathways between the Capitol and the House Office building and dedicated it to the Hague tribunal and to world peace.

The tree grow space, spreading its branches around and seeming to sing hosannas to the statue that caps the capitol, looking forever toward the east. Lately, however, the leaves of this stordy young oak have begun to turn yellow and sere, the branches have commenced to droop and now only one of its lithe young arms remains green. The tree is dying as the war rages, and there is no peacel

For years we have been stating in the newspapers of the country that a great many women have escaped serious operations by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it is true.

We are permitted to publish in this announcement extracts from the letters of five women. All have been recently received unsolicited. Could any evidence be more convincing?

Hongron, Mr.—"I had pains in both sides and such a soreness I could scarcely straighten up at times. My back ached and I was so nervous I could not sleep, and I thought I never would be Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt like a new woman."—Mrs. HAYWARD Sowers, Hodgdon, Me.

CHARLOTTE, N. C.—"I was in bad health for two years, with 2. pains in both sides and was very nervous. I had a growth which the doctor said was a tumor, and I never would get well unless I had an operation. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I gladly say that I am now enjoying fine health."—Mrs. Rosa Sims, 16 Winona St., Charlotte, N. C.

HANOVER, PA.—"The doctor advised a severe operation, but my husband got me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I experienced great relief in a short time. Now I feel like a new person and can do a hard day's work and not mind it."—Mrs. And Will, 196 Stock St., Hanover, Pa.

4. DECATUR, ILL.—"I was sick in bed and three of the best physicians said I would have to be taken to the hospital for an operation as I had something growing in my left side. I refused to submit to the operation and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—and it worked a miracle in my case, and I tell other women what it has done for me."—Mrs. LAURA A.
